In a broad sense, friendship exists between all human beings even though some of them may never know each other all their lives. If you are a peasant, you grow crops and provide other people with food. So you are their friend. In return, they will provide you with farming tools and advanced technology. So they are also your friends. Your friendship makes your life possible and easier. Of course, friendship between familiar people is also important. When we are in trouble, we want other people to give us a hand; when we are upset, we need other people to give us comfort and encouragement. Friendship makes life more meaningful and beautiful. Real friendship stands the test of time and hardship.

How do animals communicate? Take dogs for example. They bare their teeth to warn, wag their tails to welcome and stand firm, with hair erect, to challenge. These signals are surely the canine equivalent of the human body-language of facial expressions, gestures and postures. Colors can be an important means of communication for animals. There are several ways in which American dining customs are different from those in other parts of the world. A guest invited to dinner is expected to arrive on time. The use of the fork and knife is often different. The fork is used mostly in the right hand. It gathers the food without help from the knife, which is generally used only to cut meat or potatoes, and is placed to the right of the plate when in use. And while in many places the napkin is put around the neck, here it is put on the lap. Finally, when Americans eat certain foods, they use their fingers. For example, at picnics they eat chicken, pizza and so on with their hands only.

I feel very sorry to tell you that I have a complaint to make.

Sadly, the phone could not take pictures or send messages, and the sound was not perfect, either. At first I thought I probably didn't use it correctly. But after I consulted several friends of mine, the problems remained. So I strongly suggest that you give me the refund or replace my SQ200.

I am looking forward to your prompt reply.
